DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

C. C. Powning, Editor & Proprietor

FRIDAY.....JULY 28, 1882.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is expected that by an other month some 2,000 laborers will be transferred from the line of the Southern Pacific railroad in Texas to the extension beyond Redding, and that work will be pushed right along on the California and Oregon road. The Yreka Journal says the Central Pacific must commence work soon if they expect to finish their portion of the Oregon line as quick as the Villard company. The Central Pacific have over 140 miles to build, and the Villard company have not so much to reach the Oregon line, but the latter company have more tunnels, besides crossing the Siskiyou. The Oregon company expects to have nearly half their road completed by October.

General Crook should be hurried forward to the seat of war in Arizona. He is need badly by the settlers and the troops. The Apaches are on the war path and the commander of the department, General Wilcox, is not. While the Gen. is telegraphing furiously to and fro, the savages are murdering ranchers, stealing stock and devastating the country. The General is fighting on the wrong line.

Five of our United State Senators are of foreign birth. They are Charles W. Jones of Florida, born in Ireland, James B. Beck of Kentucky, born in Scotland; John P. Jones of Nevada, born in England; James G. Fair of Nevada, born in Ireland; W. J. Sewell of New Jersey, born in Ireland.

A Deadhead Race

Harrisburg, Penn., is to be the starting point of one of the most novel contests on record. Two young men, born in Reading, have for the past ten years been traveling all over the United States, separately and in different directions, without paying any fare. A few days ago they accidentally came together in Reading, and in a short time their stories of free travel became the topic of considerable talk. For the purpose, therefore, of deciding which of the two was really the more expert deadhead, two Reading merchants raised a purse of $100, to be given to the man who succeeded in reaching first a certain distant Western point. Milwaukee was first selected, but subsequently a city further West was chosen, supposed to be Salt Lake. Both men are to start from Harrisburg. The day has been agreed upon, but to prevent railroad policemen and others from interfering with the men, or in any way extending special favors, the time of the start will not be made public in advance. Each man is to leave for the West without any money whatever, and he must make affidavit that he has conformed to this requirement. The contestants in this novel race are George Strasner and William Read.

In a Nut-shell

The present sovereign of Egypt, Mohammed Tewfik, is nominally the viceroy of the Sultan of Turkey, of whose dominions Egypt is theoretically a part. By various firms or degrees he enjoys the privilege of an independent hereditary monarch, with the Persian-Arabic title of Khediv-el-Misr, or King of Egypt, popularly rendered by "the Khedive." As such monarch he and his predecessors have contracted various public debts, a large portion of which are held by British and French subjects, and for the better securing their payment Tewfik placed, in 1879 and 1880, the management of the Egyptian finances in the hands of the two Comptroller-Generals, one appointed by Great Britain and one by France, virtually constituting them as administrative officers. Against this management Arab Bey, representing the native political element of the country, rebelled, and the Khedive has been unable to subdue him. The present military proceedings have been taken by Great Britain, therefore, for the purpose of overthrowing Arabi and restoring the power to the Khedive—that is, to the English and French officials to whom he has entrusted it.

It is said that the bag ring in San Francisco has 18,000,000 bags "cornered," and that they have caught the farmers out handsomely. The latter do not appear to have profited at all by their past experiences, for it would be just as easy for them to obtain and keep control of the bag market as it is for the speculators to do so.

The Carson Appeal is informed that there are a number of lads between the ages of 12 and 17 years in Carson who are habitually carrying dirk knives and pistols concealed about their persons. The carrying of concealed weapons by such chits of boys is another outcrop of that pernicious practice of "dime novel" reading.

A Rich Beggar.

The richest hunting ground for a female beggar would seem to be New Mexico and southern Colorado, where the scarcity of women predisposes the average citizen to gallantry toward the fair sex, and natural recklessness makes him extravagant in his generosity. Mary Cunio, resident in Denver, but often on the tramp, is a mendicant by profession and a drunkard by way of recreation. She frequently has several thousand dollars in her possession and is a regular and large depositor in one of the Denver banks. At short intervals she starts upon a begging expedition southward, and always returns with a good supply of money. Then she enjoys her prosperity by going on a wild spree. Recently she deposited $1,490 with the Chief of Police for safe keeping. Another police officer says that he has seen her returning from one of her expeditions with as much as $3,000. It is thought that she is a good deal of a capitalist.

Jay Hubbell, who writes letters to George William Curtis, is a native of Michigan, and a large owner of the celebrated Calumet copper mine in the Lake Superior region, from which he derives an income of $20,000 a year. He is a medium-sized, thick-set, strong-necked man, with a full beard, which is generally neatly clipped, and a very quiet manner. He is not a man who wastes words. Like many of the strong Westerners, he smokes most of the time. He lives in fairly good style, and keeps his own carriage in Washington.

A man was recently arrested and jailed in New York for passing upon a tradesman a five dollar Irish Republic note, such as were common in 1867, at the time of the great Fenian excitement. The note reads: "The Irish Republic is indebted to bearer five dollars. These five dollars will be paid six months after the acknowledgment of the independence of the Irish nation, at the treasury of the Irish Republic."

The New York Times is of the opinion that the period of business depression has passed, and that the country is now entering upon a season of renewed prosperity. It figures up good crops, making due allowance for the backwardness of corn in many sections. And with good crops and good money, and plenty of it, there is no perceptible reason why there should not be good times.

Because cattle in Chicago become restless at the sight of pools of blood, their butchers are in the habit of knocking out the animals' eyes an hour or two before slaughter with a big heavy hammer. They then become so afraid and uncertain about themselves as to give little trouble to their inhuman masters. Two miscreants were caught in the act the other day.

A letter carrier in England the other day was given a penny wherewith to stamp a letter he had been asked to mail. He forgot to put on the stamp and has been sent to prison for five years—the invariable term for all misappropriation of money or letters by the carriers.

There is gold enough in Snake river valley, Idaho Territory, to pay the national debt, if it could be saved. On hundreds of thousands of acres it can be found with a common gold pan. But the gold is so light that it escapes all known processes.

The Sultan has decided to denounce Arabi Pasha as a traitor. The Sultan received Dervish Pasha, on his return from Egypt, very coldly, and complained that he did not persuade Admiral Seymour to delay bombardment.

A person may become an American citizen, it seems, not only by birth, but, if he is a minor, by the marriage of his mother to an American citizen. Justice Harlan has so decided in a recent case.

Smallpox has again broken out at Echo, Utah, on the Union Pacific. One death occurred on Sunday, and several bad cases are reported. Quarantine is neglected and the disease will spread.

The Senate Naval Committee has agreed to report favorably for an appropriation of $25,000 for removing the bodies of Lieutenant De Long and companions to America.

A tremendous conflagration broke out in Alexandria yesterday morning. As seen from the harbor it seemed larger than any since the bombardment.

Mother! Mother!! Mother!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW's SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer at once—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

THE WORLD IN BRIEF.

The Standard mine, Bodie, now employs close on to 170 men.

It is now announced that Congress will be ready to adjourn by Monday next.

A Rome dispatch says that George P. Marsh, American Minister, died suddenly at Vatembrosia.

U. S. District Judge Sabin will take up his residence in Carson immediately after his confirmation.

Senator Edmunds is said to do more miscellaneous reading than all the other Senators together.

On Monday night last it was so cold in Bodie that ice, a quarter of an inch thick, formed in the streets there.

Mrs. Sergeant Mason has declined a clerkship in Chicago store at $125 per month. The same firm wants her husband at $1,800 a year.

It is reported that Northern Belle will resume the payment of dividends next month, with over four dividends of fifty cents each in the Treasury.

Herr Merling, arrested for selling plans of the coast defences of Germany to Russia, has been sentenced to six years' imprisonment at hard labor.

John W. Mackay and Dick Dey have gone to spend a few weeks at Yosemite. Upon his return Mr. Mackay will go to Virginia City and give the mines his attention for some time.

The Fenians appear to be preparing to attack Windsor Castle. The keys were recently stolen from all the most important locks, and a supply of over 800 new locks for the entire building was ordered.

A shocking story from New Mexico. A wagon train was attacked by Indians. The teamsters mortally wounded one and dragged him into their camp, and, after the fight was over, scalped him and roasted him alive.

W. W. Hobart contradicts the report that he is a candidate for State Controller.

Senator Jones will come to Nevada immediately after the adjournment of Congress.

The Belcher and Crown Point Companies are now daily extracting about 200 tons of ore.

The Italians of Reno propose celebrating the discovery of America by Columbus, on the 14th of October.

Catfish catching by moonlight is a popular Washoe Valley diversion. It was not discovered by the old folks.

The ninety-day limitation on the Chinese bill expires in a week. Then we will have a ten-year respite. Hallelujah.

The assessments are being slapped on again at a lively rate. The Northenders, however, are the principal victims.

Grasshoppers will gather about half the crops in the south end of Mason Valley. The farmers will get all in the north end.

Cattle buyers are numerous in this vicinity, and every hoof that can be purchased is speedily gobbled up at good prices.

The Post thinks that the 4th of August, which will give us relief from the Chinese invasion, should be kept as a public holiday. Good idea.

The repairing of the machinery at the Alta mine is progressing slowly and it will be two weeks before the pumps can be got in running order.

Twenty of the laboring hands belonging to Robinson's circus left the show at Truckee, and a number of them are now in town looking for work.

It is reported that the Northern Belle will resume the payment of dividends next month, with over four dividends of fifty cents each in the treasury.

The tramps that were driven out of Wadsworth are reported at Grass Valley, where they terrorized the whole community until the officers jugged them.

Every day brings to the surface a lot of new aspirants for county offices in both political parties. There will be no lack of candidates for the positions to be filled.

Governor Kinkead has appointed E. T. George, editor of the Lewis Herald, as our Commissioner to Denver. Supt. Dunne, of the Nevada Central Railroad, generously offers to pay all expenses.

Dr. Dawson is arranging with the friends and relatives of four patients at the Asylum to have them taken out. They are not crazy, but are so simple that they are unable to care for themselves.

An exchange remarks, "It is odd to see a man howling about patronizing home industries when he uses a rubber stamp to make the most horrible darts of letter heads with which nice white paper was ever spoiled."

Vennor's predictions for the remainder of the year are as follows: Rainy July and stormy August are most inevitable; September, fair and frosty; October and November, wet; December, stormy and plenty of snow.

It is positively announced that John W. Mackay is to remain on this coast four months. The mining situation on the Comstock is growing interesting in certain places, and Mr. Mackay evidently does not want to be abroad when a big ore body is found.

The boy who substitutes a living for a dead hornet in the collection of a near-sighted entomologist, and asks the man of science to show him where the insect's sting is located, should be held responsible for any irreligious sentiments the victim may advance.

Admiral Phil Dampier the old warhorse of the Wine House is still on deck commanding the assault against the Alexandria of thirsty throats. If his guns of toadies, punches and juleps don't knock the stuffing out of obdurate temperate fortifications, then surely the Dutch will invade Holland.

Midnoon, the Solid Man.

Charles H. Sproul has been appointed Postmaster at Battle Mountain. A short time ago he was made a Regent of the State University. He is a member of the Republican State Central Committee and runs a good paper in Battle Mountain. The young man seems to be on the top wave of prosperity and we expect him to take rank as one of our most solid citizens.

OPHIR.

Relic of the Early Days.

Twenty years ago the town of Ophir, in this county, was as lively a place as could be found anywhere. The ore from the Comstock was brought there for reduction, money was as plentiful as any could ask, times were lively, shooting scrapes and fights were daily occurrences, teamsters were as numerous as sands of the sea, gambling became second-nature to the people, and the very name became a synonym of life. Washoe and Franktown were also full of bustle. Now how changed. A few years ago Yager had a furnace erected and reworked the tailings left by the crude operators of the early days and by the improved processes employed was able to realize a handsome competency with which he has purchased a palatial home in one of the most beautiful spots of California and has laid out a life of plenty and pleasure. The slickens beds became covered by overflows a year or so ago and work was abandoned. Since then Ophir has been a very deserted village. A house or two are still occupied, but the ruins of stone, brick and frame edifices which lie around, tell but too plainly the story of its departed glory. The completion of mills on the Carson river was a death blow to its prosperity and Ophir now takes its place with a vast number of other Pacific coast towns which saw more life in a few years than a staid New England town will ever see. Such a life as Ophir saw is only possible with such a people as composed the pioneers.

Where to Go.

Now that the season is fairly upon us the question, where to go for the Summer or for a week or two's recreation is frequently asked. The many desirable places within easy distance of Reno complicated matters considerably. The lakes offer inducements which attract a great many, and already several parties are basking among the pleasures there collected. Others prefer to go into the northern valleys to fish and hunt. Here they find beautiful little mountain streams, full of the nicest of trout, and surrounded by the most beautiful of foliage, and away from the world they give themselves over fully to the pleasures of the hour, not caring whether Arabi Pasha kills Admiral Seymour or whether a new postmaster has been appointed at Squintville. Judge Webster is firmly of the opinion that Pyramid Lake possesses charms not presented by any other place and makes an annual pilgrimage there to fish and bathe. The most ambitious wander off to Monterey and Santa Cruz, but the weight of the average purse will not admit of such an elaborate excursion and a cheaper proposition meets with more favor. A few climb to the summit of Mount Rose and get a glimpse of scenery not excelled in Switzerland, and gain appetites a dyspeptic would give worlds to possess. But the mass of us stay right at our places of business and sweat it out, toiling constantly for grub and clothes and leave the luxury to those who can better afford it. Every working man owes it to his health to take a week's trip somewhere. It may complicate money matters, but it will lengthen your life enough to more than straighten the snarl. Our advice is, go somewhere and be away from the vexatious toils and worries of life for a week a year.

Assessment List.

Following is a list of outstanding assessments upon Comstock mines, and the date upon which they will become delinquent in the Board:

Andes—25c; August 10.

New York—10c; July 29.

Savage—50c; July 31.

ASSESSMENTS DELINQUENT.

Following is a list of stocks upon which assessments are delinquent. The day of sale is affixed:

Mexican—50c; August 1.

California—10c; August 16.

Horrors Upon Horrors!

Yesterday Messrs. Jamison the dry goods firm adjoining the postoffice committed a horrible sacrifice on woman's rights. In our civilization, woman occupies the highest sphere and everything appertaining to her apparel is worthy of highest reverence. Imagine the horror created in a reporter's mind when upon passing the aforesaid store, the awful proclamation of "woman's hose sold here!" struck him like a thunderbolt. Horrible.

Still Another Robbery.

Yesterday a worthy rancher was relieved of twenty-seven dollars in cash by a couple of worthies who loved him as brother as usual, and after the manner of the confraternity during the past week, relieved him of the weighty anxiety of packing his own coin.

Another Robbery.

John J. Quinn, the well known plumber and tinner, is doing an excellent business. His reputation as a first-class workman, who is widely known over the country, exhibits the power of the press in showing up a man's ability. Not only is he able to do work in his line of every description, but he is prepared to make contracts of every description pertinent to his business. Give him a call.

Another Youthful Train Robber.

It was night. Night in Nevada. It was night in several other States as well but Nevada is the one with which we have to deal with at this writing. It being our turn to deal. A lightning express was booming at the rate of ten miles an hour. Every car was full many standing in the aisles with that meekness and patience only seen on an American railroad, to accomodate the fellow who wants four seats to himself. The lamps blazed fitfully over the passengers' duskers, which seemed to fit fully as well as traveling duskers usually do. The conductor had passed through (which was more than he would allow any one else to do without the requisite pass), punching people into wakefulness in order that he might punch their tickets. The train boy had filled the passengers' laps with books, to keep them from bouncing in their seats while going over rough places. The brakeman had put his head in and shouted, "The next stopping place is—," the name of the station being lost in the slamming of the door. The boy who is always dry had made his fifty-second pilgrimage to the water tank. And the woman who wants air had just torn off her last remaining finger-nail in trying to get her window up. This was on a railroad in the State of Nevada. Suddenly the car door opens. A youthful figure appears, holding something in his hand upon which the light glitters. He presents it in a significant manner and cries; "Now gentlemen, your money—Fifty men turn pale and cry, "Don't Shoot!" Twenty females scream with one voice, and some faint. There is a hasty thrusting of watches and pocket books beneath cushions and into boots. Strong men fight for a place under the seats where they can secrete themselves. "Gentlemen," again cries the boyish voice, ringing high and clear above the screams of women and din of the train (gasps for mercy from some of the men), "let me sell you some of this excellent tropical fruit," and he extends in his dexter hand—a banana. It was the train boy, pursuing his useful and harmless vocation.

The First Page of an Almanac:

Very few people know the significance of the various signs peculiar to the first page of an almanac, and some of them are not exactly clear to us.

In the first instance, the man who stands in the center with his vest unbuttoned in such a manner as to expose his alimentary canal, has always been a mystery to us. Why in every almanac for the past century this man, with all his works exposed to the cold night air, should be given the most prominent place in a literary work like the almanac we are unable to understand. He certainly can claim no degree of consideration for this act. It does not entitle him to any amount of prominence for the public do not throat for view of a man who has made an autopsy of himself and is apparently proud of it.

What the planets have to do with the cardiac orifice, we do not at this moment know positively, or why astronomy and the gastric juices should have anything in common.

Again we must come out and confess our ignorance as to the bearing that the ram, or the tarantula, or the twins, or the crab, or other astronomical delirium tremens may have upon the weather. Of course it is stupidity, and we ought to be ashamed of it, but we are in that fix and we cannot help it.

When our son gets old enough to look at these things, we will see that he is not left to grope along in life and make a moral show of himself as his father has.

A New Departure.

Mr. Hoffman, the veteran brewer of Reno, has nearly completed the furnishing of his new brewery and opened the new era of reform by importing a new brewer from San Francisco.

Mr. Schore, the new brewer, is an extremely old brewer, though it may seem paradoxical. He has brewed in the National, Pacific, Milwaukee and other San Francisco breweries, and lately in the Boca brewery, where he was employed a year and a half. The many friends of Mr. Hoffman are expecting great things from the new departure.

The Glendale Ticket.

The citizens of Glendale held a meeting last Tuesday evening and decided on nominating a ticket of their own to show the world that they still lived and moved and moreover had a terribly lively being. The following ticket was the result: H. Stephens, District Judge; John Denning, Justice of the Peace; Henry Whistler, Constable; George Scott, Alderman; Miss Emblem Scott, School Trustee.

A Ball in High Life.

Queen Victoria, of Great Britain, has extended an invite to the reporter of the JOURNAL to attend a ball at Windsor Castle next Saturday evening at 8 p. m.

He is requested to bring along his lackeys and valets so as to do everything in style on the occasion. Grand times are expected, and everything will be in the finest shape. Invitations can be obtained from Dr. Dawson.

PERSONAL.

J. E. Jones is in from the north for a few days.

W. J. Henley, with his young wife, has returned from below.

Mrs. S. C. Scoville of Reno is visiting her parents in Carson.

Geo. M. Sabin has been confirmed as U. S. Judge for Nevada.

J. J. Jackson, of Washoe City, passed through here last night on his way to Bocca.

Miss Frankie Grippen has gone to Hamilton, White Pine county, to teach school.

Eugene Dewey, the stock broker and mining expert, is on his way from New York to San Francisco.

Lew D. Folsom, of the hardware firm of Gallatin & Folsom, Gold Hill, passed through here night before last.

N. J. Seligman, the famous New York banker, gave us a glimpse of his golden glitter as he paused for an instant on his journey a few nights ago.

T. H. Downey, whose wife was injured on the V. & T. track some months ago, has returned from the East where his father's estate has been settled up.

W. F. Berry, of the firm of Manning & Berry, has the reputation of having two of the handsomest children in town—Frankie and Mamie, both chips of the old flock.

G. W. Pease, formerly timekeeper of the Douglas mill in Gold Hill is now on a visit to Reno, seeking a position. His great abilities as an accountant recommend him for a position and besides he has a voice which will endear him to the many church choirs in the town.

A Genuine Case for Religious Aid.

A week or so ago Chas. S. Black and wife arrived in Reno and stopped at the Pyramid House. Mr. Black is in a failing condition from hemorrhage of the lungs and his wife is completely worn out with watching and waiting on him. Mrs. Black is a member of the Baptist persuasion and for years past has been doing missionary work, and she possesses testimonials from a number of the most influential men in the East. The Christian people of Reno, especially of the Baptist Church, surely ought to act in the matter and extend the hand of Church as well as fellowship to Mr. and Mrs. Black. The JOURNAL makes mention of the case as it is really one deserving of the utmost sympathy and charity. Mr. and Mrs. Black are stopping at the Pyramid House at present, since not being residents of this county for the requisite period, Mr. Black has to wait and suffer instead of going to the County Hospital. The case is one really deserving of the attention of all humanity loving religious people.

Why Is This Thus?

The JOURNAL wants the tar-brigade reorganized. After the publication of its "Sayings of Great Men" this morning we presume the subscribers of that paper would be willing to submit to the disgrace, if the editor of the JOURNAL be submitted to the first application of the contents of the bucket.—[Reno Times.]

What in creation have we been doing?

Pedner has made arrangements to give a chromo to everybody who takes a bath at his rooms to-day.

Advertising Medium.

The advertising columns of the JOURNAL afford an excellent opportunity to our readers to study out where purchases of all kinds can be made on the most advantageous terms. All classes of goods can there be found advertised from a suit of clothes or nice silk dress to the daintiest ornament in the jewelry line.

The JOURNAL reaches nearly every family as well as business house in the county, and, therefore, advertisers seek its columns that the public may know what they have for sale.
